EIGHT BOOKED ON BURGLARIES

Bandit Suspects All Under 18 Years of Age

Wife of Robbery Victim Furnishes Clew

Watches and Jewels Found at Rendezvous

On a description furnished by the wife of one of their accused victims, eight boys from 12 to 18 years of age yesterday were rounded up by Detective Lieutenant Wingfield, and Gilliland of the Seventy-seventh Division Police Station and boosed on suspicion of burglary and suspicion of the theft of an auto.

They are booked at Harrison seventh Place; Jack J. Courtney, 1225 East Fifty-eighth Place; Stewart, 18, 311 Los Feliz Avenue, 15, 1806 N Street, South; Carl W. Kell, 18, 715 Main Street; Eddie Tucker, 18, 715 Main Street; Roy Morris, 17, 717 Holmes Avenue.

PLUNDER RECOVERED

With the arrest, the detectives recovered watches and rings valued at $750, which it is charged of the boys obtained in the breaking of William Hask's jewelry store at 830 South Main street last night. The others also recovered at Madeline and Main streets a small sedan they say the accused youths stole prior to the burglary.

EDWARD INDICATED

The round-up followed a report made by Edward Wolf that three men had held up his service station at 1462 East Florence Avenue, and raffled off $1000 in the afternoon. According to the man, the detectives learned from Wolf that she had recognized one of the youths as residents of the May Auto Court at 1225 East Fifty-fifth street.

TWO FUGITIVES

At that address Kent and Tracy were taken in custody as soon as, and after questioning, the officers reported, they implicated the others.

Investigation, the detective said, revealed that Kent and Tracy had escaped from the law, rather than from the former from Whittier and the latter from Pacific Lodge. They have been using the Way Auto Court, where they were found, as a rendezvous.

SUICIDE LAID TO Marital Woes

Dependence over his spouse from whom he was given as cause of the suicide was laid to marital woes. Twenty years old, he was born in 1909 San Pablo street.

Rosie, who was a railroad woman, played the mimic of a dead army rifle in his mouth and pressed the trigger. Death was instantaneous. The police were here to see that his body was given to the coroner, and his widow was swooning over his sudden trouble.

POMEGRANATE MEN TO CONSIDER MARKETING

FORTERVILLE, Sept. 8.—Pomegranate growers of Terra Bella and Forterville districts will gather at the Roosevelt Fruit Exchange this city Tuesday evening to consider marketing plans. Members of the Terra Bella Pomegranate Growers' Association will be present through the exchange the association has organized.

The meeting is also open to growers who are members of the association. Tulare county is determined to have the largest pomegranate acreage in the world, and acreage is chiefly in the section of the county.

ASSEMBLYMAN TO IN GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

HANFORD, Sept. 9.—The assemblyman A. P. Jewett, representing the fifty-fourth assembly district (Hanford), will be married on Saturday, the 16th inst., to Miss Dorothy L. Dodge of this city.

The ceremony will be performed in the County Building at Sacramento, with Justice Plummer of the Appellate Court officiating.

Assemblyman F. C. Chappell and his fiancee, Miss Sue Humphrey of Stockton, will be the attendants at the wedding, it is announced.

NETRACK APPROVED

An ordinance creating approximately five-foot setback lines in three areas between Rodeo Road and Santa Barbara avenue, has been passed by the Council.

SUNDAY TRAFFIC

*succumb to Injuries, Many Hurt
Another Arrested*

dead, three other persons are now dead mounting list of minor injuries to drivers in Los Angeles yesterday and last night. Charles L. Gillette, 120 South Hillside Avenue, was the driver of the unidentified man of about 25 years of age in streets yesterday afternoon. He is now in hospital, checking on his injuries. His wife, Mrs. Gillette, 25, was also injured in the accident. Her husband and father, E. B. Gillette, 120 South Mott street, Mrs. Henry, 1803, driver of the other car, Mrs. Johnson, who were both in the car, were treated with minor hurts. They were treated at the City Hospital.

Carl Lachman, 25, of West street, suffered several major injuries according to the front of an auto which crashed into a building at Ordan Avenue and Franklin Boulevard.

(A full page of pictures showing wreckage of the air liner City of the Americas and a sketch by Charles Hamilton Ovens depicting the same appear on Page 9, Part I of this edition of The Times.)

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 9. (AP)—Transcontinental Air Transport officials, including Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, chairman of the technical committee, issued a report tonight concerning probable cause of the wreck of the air liner City of San Francisco with the loss of eight lives on Mt. Taylor, New Mexico. The report was based on Col. Lindbergh's observations at the scene and the telephone report of Paul Collins, general superintendent of the line. The search and investigation were suspended.

"The main things involved,"

Col. Lindbergh said, "give an irrebuttable proof of the cause of the accident. From the facts obtainable, it appears that Pilot Sloane was flying the ground at full speed under full control. He may have been blinded momentarily by a local storm."

NEW YORK, Sept. 9. (AP)—A confidential file of the intelligence service of the United States Navy sent to him anonymously from Washington was the source of information he gave the press at the Geneva arms limitation conference in 1925 and 1927. William B. Shearer, big navy advocate, declared today.

Shearer said he expected to go to Washington tomorrow night to appear before the Senate Naval Affairs Committee which meets tomorrow to consider Senator Borah's suggestion that it investigate Shearer's activities in Geneva.

"I shall take that file with me and show it to the committee," he added.

WORKED FOR PRESS

Shearer also said that his activities at Geneva, both in 1925 and 1927, were confined exclusively to the press and that he had no dealings with any participants in the conference.

"I never saw any of the participants as a lobbyist or tried to influence them," he declared. "I was not directly interested in what they were doing. What I went over for was to see that the figures and facts got into the papers."

The navy file he said contained figures and other data to show the comparative strength of all the navies in the world and the strength of T.A.T.

Headaches, Eyes YOUR EYES EXAMINED GLASSES $3.85 COMPLETE

All this week, an Examination of Your Eyes, a pair of Spherical Glasses in a frame, complete for $3.85.

Gold or shell frames, tortois, cylindrical, fancy shapes and double vision glasses are also available.

The present time to look after the Eyes is when you first notice any Eye trouble. Many defects of Vision may be overcome by early attention.

The Glasses with which you can see the best are not necessarily correct for you. They may be badly reading the Eyes. It's something this Eyes strain that requires Skill, Ability, Experience and Knowledge. That's what we offer you.

Have an Oviatt examination—just open it. Give your Eyes the best of Care. I personally use no drops. You'll find my charges very reasonable. Some of your friends are wearing glasses I fitted.

"In public office he has been successively assistant Postmaster-General, Postmaster-General and Secretary of the Interior, with a record for administration, capacity, and courage at each step."

SOUTHERNER HEADS G.O.P. COMMITTEE

Claudius H. Huston

but also for so distinguished a career in public service.

"Signed HERBERT HOOVER."

With the Work resignation accepted, Huston's name was placed before the committee by a national vice-chairman, H. Hughes, a national committee-woman for Tennessee. Seconding speeches came in such rapid order that finally William G. Skelly, national committeeman for Oklahoma, had it made a matter of record that such addresses had been made by all members of the committee.

Southern members hailed the nomination with delight. R. B. Crammer said he spoke "for the no longer solid South and the former, but no longer banner Democratic State of Texas."

C. Barcom Stimpf said he seconded the nomination for "the Republican State of Virginia," and predicted that in the contest for State offices in the Old Dominion this fall the Republicans will repeat the victory of 1928.

Hoover was escorted to the platform the members of committee arose and gave him an ovation. He immediately made his opening address amid interruptions for applause and then adjourned to the meeting after James W. Work, his legal counsel, had been elected a member of the executive committee.

HOOVER SPEAKS

In accepting the chairmanship Mr. Huston said:

"When one is called to a post of honor as important as that of the chairmanship of the dominant party in this great country it is in order that he make formal expression of his appreciation.

"I am very grateful for the honor you have conferred upon me. I accept the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee in the hope that with your help we may give service to the Republican party under the leadership of President Hoover."

The work of a national party organization is no longer a mere propaganda campaign effort. It is a year-round task. In order that it may give proper attention to it I am severing all my active business connections and will in the near future be able to give the work all my undivided efforts.

"Nor is successful political effort a one-man job. It depends on a common counsel and common effort. The chairmanship of the national committee could not be safely assumed except with the knowledge that the co-operation of the members of this committee is assured.

TRIBUTE TO WORK

"My tribute is made easier because of the harmonious conditions prevailing in the Republican national organization at the close of the administration of my friend, Dr. Work, under whose chairmanship the Republican party gained one of the most remarkable victories in all the long history of our party.

"I regard the Republican National Committee as the most important of all our political agencies in America. It is not a mere political machine. It is a body of distinguished men and women honored by their respective States. It evolves and carries into effect all the plans of our national convention in which party policies are framed, and in which candidates for the two highest offices in the land—one of them the most important office in the world—are chosen.

It then has imposed upon it the supremely important responsibility of convincing the majority of the American people that those principles and candidates are to be preferred over all others. Furthermore, it is the committee's duty to aid the administration in wisely managing all its affairs and carrying into effect our party policies.

To do this requires political intelligence and diligence of the highest order. It requires a high and correct conception of what party management and party responsibility mean to this country. It requires tolerance, disinterestedness and harmonious teamwork.

"It is a privilege to one who has been a worker in the ranks of Republicanism from youth to undertake further service in behalf of the Republican party and the administration of President Hoover. His remarkable influence in the South, particularly his popularity at the last election, it is evident that throughout the country he now stands stronger in popular confidence and esteem than even before.

"My program as chairman will be that of seeking to build up, with the help and the aid of the Republican workers throughout the country, an organization which will insure full expression of that public opinion which stands with and by the Republican party and the administration's ownership.

"It is natural for me to regard the chairmanship of this committee as one which I signed, however, that can come to any citizen and to justify the confidence you have reposed in me. I pledge you the best service of which I am capable."

It's true that he wears everything a long time and when I accused him of coming out in a new suit the other day, he told me it was four years old. Of course he has numerous changes, but you couldn't detect it from a new one. He's convinced me that if an article is good over a period of years it's economical if its initial cost is necessarily higher, and even though I'll have to be satisfied with fewer changes, you can bet my next suit will be one of Oviatt's... and a good one."

DIPLOMACY KEY TO CHINA PEACE

Rabbit Offers Test of Nonforce Methods

Mukden Ruler in Control of Whole Situation

Soviet Ultimatum Ignored by Marshal Chang

BY FRED HOGUE

HARBIN (Manchuria) Aug. 22.—According to the Washington cables, "Secretary Stimson has offered to make the Chinese Eastern crisis a test of the antiwar pact, not of the four-power treaty."

If the present muddle in Manchuria can be cleared away without force, or a threat of force, the triumph of peace over armed conflict will be secured. The nations should live in peace for at least another century.

Any agreements between the Soviets and the national government at Nanking would not be worth the paper it is written on, for the Chinese Eastern Railways is not under the control of the Nationalists; and never has been.

Marshal Chang, head of the Mukden government, is in supreme control in Manchuria, outside the Japanese leased territory and concession.

Nanking cannot discipline him, because the Japanese would intervene if any army from south of the wall should attempt to enter Manchuria.

Chang comes of a race and culture that know only force in solving disputes who are likely to be much impressed by conversation.

Just so long as the powers insist that there must be no force or threat of force, Mukden is not concerned about the exchange of diplomatic notes.

It must be remembered that the Mukden government has signed no antiwar pact. The independence of Manchuria was proclaimed by the leader Marshal Chang. Since that proclamation no government south of the great wall has exercised any restraint. Mukden has not yet received any revenue from Manchuria.

Only one who is here on the ground can appreciate how lightly Chang and his associates have taken this Chinese Eastern affair.

They have no railroads. They are unable to make arrangements with the Soviets about handling through traffic on the Siberian line, but the part of the road that runs through Manchurian territory, about 700 miles, and the revenue therefrom, is in their possession.

UNION STATION
BRIEF OFFEREDCommerce Body Reiterates
Plea on Local SituationAuthority Held Lacking to Give Railroads OrdersSupreme Court Hearing Due on Depo October 28

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (Exclusive)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today filed a brief with the United States Supreme Court reiterating its contention that it has no authority to order railroads serving Los Angeles to construct and operate the proposed union station on the Plaza site.

The brief is a part of the proceedings leading up to the hearing before the Supreme Court on October 28 which it is hoped by counsel for the city of Los Angeles, will bring a final decision on the union terminal controversy.

The litigation extends over a period of six or seven years and has been marked by two efforts of the Railroad Commission of California to direct that the station be built, only to be blocked by an appeal by the railroads to the State courts which held in both instances that the power to compel the carriers to enter into the project with the Federal Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington. Certain phases of the case were brought before the Supreme Court in 1924, and resulted in a decision that before the station could be constructed and used the Interstate body would have to authorize the necessary changes in tracks.

DEADLOCK CAUSED

The Interstate Commerce Commission stands on this decision, and has expressed its willingness to permit the track operators while agreeing that it has no authority to order the entire project. The California State commission has stood pat, as have the California courts, and the result for the last several years has been a deadlock.

Last year, in an effort to get a final ruling from the Supreme Court, Max Thelen, chief counsel in the matter for the city of Los Angeles, brought suit in the District of Columbia Supreme Court, quickly forfeited it in the interest of speed, successfully obtained a reversal in the District Court of Appeals, and thus put the entire proceeding up to the United States Supreme Court in its broad aspects. He is seeking a decision which will compel the Interstate Commerce Commission to assume jurisdiction and to hear evidence on the necessity and public desirability of the proposed union station. While the commission has refused to do so because of its assertion that it lacks full authority.

Thelen is driving for a final decision by the Supreme Court early next year, and probably will obtain it if arguments can be completed at the time set late next month.

WHAT IT CONTENDS

In the brief submitted today the Interstate Commerce Commission argues that Congress wisely has limited its jurisdiction in the matter of new stations, leaving the principal authority to the States. If there were not this limitation, the commission could ride roughshod over local community interests and order stations built wherever its fancy dictated even though the result might be to upset real estate values, city planning, traffic problems and hotel arrangements and otherwise throw the entire downtown section of a city into turmoil by careless selection of new terminal sites.

In a broader sense the commission asserts "the use of such authority would be a flagrant invasion of State's rights." The commission concludes that it is unauthorized to act in the United States Railroad Act authority for it to order a local terminal project and says that if Congress has intended that it have such power it would have been conferred in express terms in the railroad legislation of 1920.

FLAPPER HAILED AS CRIME'S FOE

Lady Armstrong Sights New Triumphs for Her

Girls Making Real Success in Business World

And Yet They're Returning to Feminine Modes

NEW YORK. Sept. 9. (P)—The American flapper is going to wield a whip hand in her country's drive for prevention of crime in the opinion of Lady Armstrong, wife of the British Consul-General here and member of New York's commission to study crime prevention.

"The flappers who has known her cigarettes and her cocktails and her night clubs have turned down to business with a much wiser, saner view than is credited to her," Lady Armstrong said today.

"She understands the problems that face crime prevention, she wants to help, and she is starting and supporting movements that strike at its root. The big sister movement and the court are instances of this and there will be others. Delinquent girls will listen to a smart young woman in modish clothes, when they often won't stop to hear a woman of 50.

SHES SETTLING DOWN

"The success the flapper has made in business contributes much to her strength. Sister's the top dog now. Her pay check is often bigger than brother's. She's sharper in business today than he, and she's working harder. The newness has worn off her independence and she's settling down."

"And with all her independence she is turning to feminine frills and furbelows again. Long skirts are coming back. They'll be swishing about our ankles in another year, I believe. Long hair is again in fashion, and there's a new day of femininity coming as women learn to wear them. Women who have failed in their roles as moral leaders for the last five years are winning back."

Lady Armstrong, born in America of English descendants, herself has been active in social-service work for twenty-five years. She planned into the work of the Ladies of Charity in 1902, after her father decreed that the life of an opera singer, whom she had selected, was "too strenuous" for her.

BIG SISTER MOVEMENT

Becoming interested in the children's court, then in a ramshackle building in lower New York, she spent her time aiding the cases which appeared there, and later was a dominant figure in the organization of the Big Sisters movement.

Today she is chairman of the Co-operative Big Sisters, first vice-president of the International Federation of Big Brothers and Sisters, director of the Florence Crittenton League and the Girls Service League, and vice-president of the Ladies of Charity.

In addition to her activities she is the wife and mother of British Consul-General in New York; the godmother of more than a score of East Side babies, the head of an unofficial "employment bureau" which finds jobs for an average of fifteen persons a week, and a member of New York's commission to study crime prevention.

Film star Greta Garbo, Lady Armstrong regards as at once the most destructive and the most educational factors in modern life. The ill effects of the fast tempo at which the modern young American lives have been exaggerated on the whole, she believes.

"You can't control young people today by saying 'don't do that,'" she says. "The thing to do is let them have their fun and teach them common sense and a way to keep their feet on the ground while they're doing it."

VITAPHONE SUES OVER "TALKIES"

Sound Corporation and Warners Seek Writ to Prevent Interference

SAN FRANCISCO. Sept. 9. (Ex-clusive)—Motoring by easy stages from Canada, Winston Churchill, British statesman, arrived in the San Francisco Bay section today, accompanied by his son, Randolph, his brother, Maj. John Strange Churchill, and his nephew, John Churchill, who reigned as Chancellor of the Exchequer when the Labor party gained control of the British government, came a month ago to this country for a two month vacation, during which he plans to visit the United States. With Sir Gerald Campbell, British Consul-General in San Francisco, as his guide, Churchill stopped today for luncheon at the ranch of George De Latour in the Napa Valley and then drove to the Berkeley home of William F. Crocker, where he and his party will be house guests for a few days.

It was stated that the Vitaphone concern is a subsidiary of Warner Brothers, as is the Stanley Company of America. Warner Brothers contend that during 1926 and 1927 they spent sums of money for performances, talking pictures, dramatic and musical entertainments amounting to approximately $15,000,000 and that friction between themselves and the defendants arose, endangering the contract between the two whereby the defendants were to manufacture equipment for making sound pictures and the plaintiffs were to have the right to use it.

INQUIRY PUSHED BY MAJ. YOUNG*T.A.T. Crash Report Will be Ready in Few Days*Air Conditions in West One of Subjects Investigated*Local Flyers Return After Helping in Search

Maj. Clarence Young, commissioner of aviation for the United States Department of Commerce, expects to complete his report pertaining to the western investigation of the mountainside crash of the City of San Francisco during the next few days, it was stated yesterday. Maj. Young arrived here Sunday with Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson, an official of the Transcontinental Air Transport who piloted one of the tri-motored planes from Alameda.

According to Maj. Young, his report will be made public from Washington, D. C. He asserted that an exhaustive study of weather conditions for the different seasons of the year over the western air routes will be made before he returns to Washington.

"To form an opinion or to express one would be premature at this time," Maj. Young declared. "I am only conferring with officials of the airway companies and going over their methods of controlling them."

AIRPORTS MUST

"Airports of this sort are to be contended with in any form of transportation. I know, because of the air-mindedness of the American people they will accept this tragedy as they would a similar unfortunate occurring in any other mode of travel."

Southern California airports, and particularly those in the Los Angeles area, were busy yesterday receiving the scores of planes who aided in the search from the sky for the missing liner. Virtually every airport in Southern California concentrated flyers and planes to the search.

Most of the flyers asserted it was almost a miracle that the wreckage of the plane had been found. They were unanimous in their praise of the sharp sight of Pilot Rice of the Western Air Express, who was the first to discover the wreckage and report it to the T.A.T.

DESCRIPTION GIVEN

Lieut. Tomlinson, who flew a score of times over the scene of the wreck after it had been found, gave a graphic account of the scene and told of watching the groups of tolling men and pack mules who struggled through the heavy growth of scrub to the mountain toward the downed plane.

Among the returning planes were those of the Navy and Marine Corps, which had been ordered by the government from their base at San Diego. There were ten Navy planes and three from the Marine Corps. The Marine Corps planes were equipped with sending and receiving radio sets. One of the Navy planes carried hospital supplies.

CAPT. SMITH TELLS OF REMARKABLE SEARCH

The great aerial search for the lost City of San Francisco was conducted with the precision and daring of war time maneuvers by a fleet of more than 100 planes, was described by Capt. Russell Smith of the Aero Corporation of California, on his return yesterday. Capt. Smith has the reputation of being one of the sharpest observers in Southern California and was the pilot who located the body of Maj. John Wood, whose plane crashed on the desert near Needles two weeks ago.

Planes began arriving at the down from all directions the day after the City of San Francisco was reported lost," Capt. Smith said. "It became apparent immediately that systematic tactics would have to be devised to prevent accidents and collisions."

The officials of the T. A. T. and the Western Air Express at Winslow chartered out the entire State of New Mexico and Arizona and allotted each aviator a section with instructions not to deviate. Each flyer was given a certain number of hours to remain in the air.

"With more than 100 planes to control it was no easy task, but they managed it so well that the territory between Denver, N. M., and the Utah line had been covered when the word was flashed that the lost ship had been discovered."

"I want to make it clear, also, that not one of the aviators in the search was impelled with the reward offer and most of them begged to be allowed to search before they had heard of it. It was a remarkable search and not one accident occurred."

Parachute Fails to Open Until Jumper in Chicago Almost Reaches Ground

CHICAGO, Sept. 8. (Exclusive)— Miss Evelyn Miller, 22 years of age, fell 1500 feet with a damaged parachute and lived to tell about it. She escaped with a badly twisted ankle and a wrenched spine.

"As I jumped from the plane I unfastened the regulation 100 feet and then pulled the ring for the parachute cord," she said. "I felt a jerk and thought my leg was broken."

"Suddenly I got the sensation that I was falling very fast. When I looked up I discovered that the aluminum ring holding the shroud lines had broken. I grabbed desperately for the lines dangling in the air, but was not strong enough to hold them. With them gone, my only hope is that I was certain I was going to my death. I looked below and the ground was coming up at terrific speed."

"About 100 feet from the ground I felt another little jerk and spectators told me the parachute had not opened completely, but I did not notice it. I hit the ground with a thud and was sure the end was near. I'll try it all over again as soon as the doctors will let me."

PILOT DEFENDED BY RICE

Flyer Who Found T.A.T. Wreck Denies Plane Took Off in Defiance of Weather Warning

Additional graphic details of the finding of the wrecked Transcontinental Air Transport liner City of San Francisco were told here yesterday afternoon by George Rice, pilot of the Western Air Express, who first sighted the twisted and broken thing that had been the trimotored Ford plane. Rice was emphatic in his belief that Pilot J. B. Davis of the wrecked plane could not be blamed for the accident.

"The storm which swept the areas as far west as the Pacific Ocean is well known for anyone who knows the first pictures of the crash. He said that almost as soon as he sighted the crumpled wings and bits of metal scattered on the slope, he put his small cameras into action and took nine pictures.

"I had the window to my cabin open and easily pointed the camera at the wreckage using up what film I had," he said.

Rice disposed of the reports that the T.A.T. plane had taken off in the face of adverse weather with the brief: "The government does not give us weather reports," and added: "The only reports are those we give ourselves from our company offices who receive them from other pilots. Other pilots in my mind have been in the same type of weather, but we have been fortunate enough to get clear."

It is the opinion of Rice that when the City of San Francisco took off from the direction of El Cajon, either intentionally or by force of the gales, and headed into the thick clouds which shrouded the peak, "the pilot must have been blinded." He probably could not see. Yet if he had been able to rise around the shoulder on the side of the mountain and gone over the sky was clear on the other side and he could have made Albuquerque safely.

the value of these means of transportation.

"We deeply regret that air transportation in recent years should be afflicted with its tragedies just as are the railroad, the sea and the highway."

"T.A.T. has spared neither expense nor labor in its efforts to make flying safe. This experience, said as it is, will only spur us to work the harder."

The conference drawing up the report includes, besides Col. Lindbergh, Col. Paul Henderson, executive vice-president, and J. V. Maguire, managing vice-president.

BODIES PREPARED IN GALLUP FOR BURIAL

GALLUP (N. M.) Sept. 8. (AP)—The bodies of six of the victims of the fatal crash of the Transcontinental Air Transport plane City of San Francisco were being prepared here today for burial. Two of the bodies those of A. H. McCaffrey, Albuquerque (N. M.) business man and Mrs. George Raymond of Glendale, Cal., were taken to Albuquerque.

Identification of the victims was completed tonight.

Ones which were absolutely identified, it following the eighth victim must have been William Beers of New York City. This body had no jewelry, dental work or other marks but Beers was listed as a passenger and seven other bodies were identified.

A complete examination of the bodies here today disclosed that all the victims probably were killed before the fire. All had many broken bones, some of the legs being almost twisted from the rest of the body. In the back of the head of one of the bodies identified one of the pilots there was a huge gash that easily could have caused death.

Those examining the bodies said there is very little doubt that all were killed by the impact of the burning liner.

Held up on the side of Mt. Taylor, where the liner crashed last Tuesday in a storm, the shattered remains of the $65,000 ship still are lying scattered in the timber. Difficulty in removal of the bodies encountered yesterday raised doubt that the wreckage over will be taken out.

Officials of the Transcontinental Air Transport indicated today that some days will elapse before regular service is resumed on the route in this section.

JERUSALEM, Sept. 8. (AP)—Jewish sources today reported scattered disorders of a minor character but official statements were that all Palestine was quiet.

Most serious of the Jewish charges was that Arab fruit dealers had poisoned goods sold to Jews. A woman was said to have been made ill by eating grapes sold by an Arab merchant. He was arrested in Jaffa and the remains turned over to the Health Department for examination. Other instances were reported.

Pilot Rice was not worried over the payment of the $10,000 reward for the discovery of the plane and its victims, saying there is no doubt in his mind as to its eventual payment. However, he will sue the government for his co-pilot, W. E. Bieber, and the steward Chris Johnson.

In order to make sure that the other two members of his crew will share equally with him, he stands firm on the statement: "We all saw the plane at the same time and when the reward is paid it will be divided equally."

The discovery of the wreckage of one of the most spectacular airplane accidents in the history of flight is the latest news of the high-flying career, but George Rice will rest for a few hours in Los Angeles and tomorrow morning will take off at 5 o'clock on his regular run as pilot of an eastbound plane of the Western Air Express.

This is the last of eight articles in which Maj.-Gen. Smedley Butler has told the diverting story of the bloodless conquest of China by the United States marines he took there in 1922 to protect American lives in the country's raging civil war.

BY SMEDLEY D. BUTLER
Major-General, U.S.M.C.
(Copyright 1932 by National American News Service)

I told you how and why the community of Boxertown gave me a blessing umbrella. In 1928 I received another from a community of 40,000 people in Tien-tsin, which insisted that by restoring its lines of communication with Tien-tsin I had saved it.

I was required to make a trip to Peking to discuss questions that came up with our minister and his aides. I preferred to motor rather than trust to the train, as we never knew when hostile or troops would rip up the rails and delay the train for hours and even days, or when some army would come along and take over all the trains for troop movements.

On one motor trip to Peking I found that a bridge had been washed away by flood. The Chinese Highway Department fiddled around for a week and did nothing about repairing it. To facilitate our own motor trips to Peking and to make sure that the plans for our relief column would not be frustrated by lack of a bridge I sent out a company of our engineers and they erected a modest pontoon bridge.

I told them that if they promised not to break it up for firewood they could have it. After a while when they showed they really cared, I had the engineers build a permanent span across the stream, and the engineers would take down the bridge and haul it back to camp.

One day a group of elders of the town told me they could not get a "Pien-tzu" to build needed supplies and to transport other businesses, as their bridge had been washed away, and they didn't know what to do about it. Their government had taken no action, despite numerous complaints. The waters were too rapid to permit swimming, so the fortifications opening. Would we lend them our bridge? the committee finished them?

I told them that if they promised not to break it up for firewood they could have it. After a while when they showed they really cared, I had the engineers build a permanent span across the stream, and the elders as well as the general population were jubilant.

In addition the engineers took out a couple of road drags and smoothed about a mile of the road on each side of the bridge.

BUTLER BRIDGE

Well, the elders of this town decided to give me another blessing umbrella. We arranged to dedicate it and the Chinese put up a brass tablet with my name on it and called the span "the span Butler." Then they gave me the ceremonial umbrella and told me I was a Chinese and one of them, and that the tablet would stay in its place.

A hundred distinguished Chinese, including the governor of the province, attended the dedication luncheon under trees near the operation, and 25,000 Chinese from the villages were grouped about the fields.

While the gabfest was on at the bridge dedication one of the serials of the Ninth Army of the Southerns, who then was in control of the area and commanding 23,000 troops, volunteered to give us as many men as we required to build roads under our direction.

In China they never have been very keen on building roads, although everything they do build is most substantial. Before the time of Christ they had built the Great Wall of China. It has suffered only 5 per cent deterioration in 2000 years. In the United States we tear our buildings down in thirty or forty years.

While the gabfest was on at the bridge dedication one of the serials of the Ninth Army of the Southerns, who then was in control of the area and commanding 23,000 troops, volunteered to give us as many men as we required to build roads under our direction.

In China they never have been very keen on building roads, although everything they do build is most substantial. Before the time of Christ they had built the Great Wall of China. It has suffered only 5 per cent deterioration in 2000 years. In the United States we tear our buildings down in thirty or forty years.

STUCK IN MUD

That wall goes up 11,000 feet, right over the highest mountain peak. We wondered how they got the stones that high, and were informed that they made bridges just the size goats could carry, and then had driven 50,000 goats up at a time carrying the bricks.

There is a temple that has paint on it that was put on 5000 years ago, and not only is it still on, but it hasn't changed color. And there is a woodcarver in China that is 2000 years old. But with all this these people never built a good road. They have built 17,000 miles of walls around their cities that have stood for 2000 or 3000 years, but they have never built a good road.

One day, in my automobile, I was on the road about ten miles from Peking. I found a man who could speak English and asked him if he spoke Pekinese. He was surprised to find that he could speak Pekinese though he lived only ten miles out. I asked him why they didn't build roads and he told me to prevent communication. Then I said to him: "You say you want the feudal system to continue, but you have dug canals, 70,000 miles of them, and built railroads."

LACK OF ROADS

"But," he said, "if we don't want trouble all we do is let the water out of the canals and we can fix the locomotives, as we won't run. We couldn't tear up a road very easily."

Now they are suffering for their

SCHILDKRAUT IN REPORTER ROLE

Studio Executive to Leave Paramount—Will Travel; Musical Comedy Star Will Play Lead in "Ropes"; Fox Signs Folies Beauty for Long Term

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Someons suggested to Joseph Schildkraut at Universal the other day, that he appear in a story by Bret Hart concerning Jack Hamlin, the gambler. But Schildkraut immediately rejected the idea of playing any more gambler roles.

However, the action in the story is always starting and the part will participate in something of the nature of a gamble, I am much as will he play the part of a star police reporter who is always undertaking the task of aiding the detectives in disentangling murder mysteries. And when I meet him again, I will tell you what a gamble that is. It seems that every male picture star these days has to try his talents out as a reporter.

The name of the story, as announced yesterday by Carl Laemmle Jr., is "Deadline," which will probably be chosen for the title.

More outside a newspaper office knows what a deadline is. It gets you in on a bit of newspaper argot, a deadline is the last possible minute at which one is permitted to turn in a story for publication.

You cannot possibly imagine the amazingly dressed Schildkraut as one of these rough and ready reporters; however, and you don't have to. The actor will appear opposite Mary Nolan in "Take It or Leave It," which is due to open in "Rope" and "The Desert Song."

For Signs Young Actress

Fox, we learn, has just signed that charming young actress, Marian Hellman, on a long-term contract.

Marian Hellman is one of the beautiful young Polish girls recently came to the U.S. She takes the stage now and then for two or three weeks and has proven so clever that Fox officials feel her services should be retained.

Mary Doran's New Role

Rushing right along toward a future filled with fine roles, Mary Doran, now playing the featured part with Norma Shearer in "Their Own Desire," will next play a featured role in "Take It Big." Van Reed, Senator Marion Goldwyn, Mayer talkie debut.

Jack Conway will direct, and Miss Doran will essay a noted rôle of the type of flapper girl. She has been lucky in her career, having won a valuable additional vote for the tariff struggle just ahead. But it is also true that Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, Vare's colleague, will have to do all he can to prevent a vote, and he thus will be filibustering against the tariff bill in which the greatest interest is almost any other Senator.

NO LOVE FOR VARE

While there is little friendship for Vare on the Republican side of the chamber, and a number of regular supporters will voice if the Philadelphia boss is finally off their hands, there is a disposition to help Reed.

Reed, who will be compelled to rise to the defense of his colleague, Senator of Indiana, the Republican leader, will be compelled to offer a vote on the Morris resolution until the tariff is disposed of.

Watson has no real hope that such a motion will prevail, as the Vare case is extremely distasteful to most of the Republicans and they are anxious to get it out of the way for good. If it does not go, however, Reed will have to decide whether to bow to the inevitable or to attempt a filibuster. If he chooses the latter course he can only win a few days delay, because he will be practically alone in the fight.

TAX DATA SOUGHT

The opening discussion of the tariff bill was held yesterday around the Simmons resolution seeking from the Treasury tax data from the Treasury for use in arguing for or against proposed changes in import levies.

Indications at the close were that the Democrats are not ready for a vote, but hope greater support will be mustered for the tax public proposal later.

The day's debate saw all of the tariff leaders of both parties participating, with Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the Finance Committee, and author of the original proposal, and Senator Smoot, Republican of Utah, chairman of the committee, making the principal arguments for and against resolution.

Simmons said his sole purpose is to obtain information that may be helpful to the Senate in determining whether industries of our country are entitled to the increased tariff protection they demand.

SMOOT HITS BACK

If coopers can buy 40¢ (Mex.) bicycles, the merchants and officials can buy motorcars and luxuries, and the road improves and are built the country will have a fine market for American-made machines.

Business people in China are ready to receive us with open arms. They trust us. We know them well. But, we don't try to sell them everything; send your representatives over and take an interest in them as a nation. They have the same opinions we are looking for and can't find.

We deal in periods of months and years; they deal in periods of centuries. They said to us: "You have just elected Hoover and you expect your troubles to be over for four years; we don't expect our revolution to be over for 300 years."

TEAMWORK COUNTS

"What difference does it make?" The Manchurians came down upon us. Japan is getting to come across now and in 200 years Japan will be a part of China. What is the use of fighting back when we can absorb them? Their children will marry Chinese and before we know it they will be all Chinese."

The Chinese appreciated our attitude toward them on many occasions told me how wonderful they were for the presence of peaceful they are.

By our attitude of refusing to join with other nations in any measures against the Chinese and in any steps to extend our lines we caused the others to hate their ambitions, which were so obvious.

Both factions, first the Northern and after the shift of power the Southerners, intimated that they might protest the withdrawal of our forces.

If the three brigades of the United States Marines successfully accomplished its mission in China it was due to perfect teamwork by its entire personnel.

TARIFF ACTION WAITS ON VARE

Norris Urges Senate Seat be Denied Pennsylvanian

Resolution of Nebraska to Have Right of Way

Reed May be Forced Into Filibustering Role

BY LAWRENCE M. BENEDICT, "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (Exclusive)—The tariff debate actually began in the Senate today, almost a month behind schedule, but more than enough interest has been shown to meet another of those interruptions which have so exaggerated those who are awaiting its benefactions.

Senator Norris of Nebraska, one of the Republican insurgents, took his regular courses by surprise when he offered a resolution to declare vacant the seat to which William S. Vare of Pennsylvania was elected three years ago, but which he never has been permitted to occupy.

Douglas Plays Lead

That pleasing young actor, Don Douglas, who lately left the New York musical comedy stage for talking pictures, and whose first picture was a smash hit, recently rejected the lead in James Cagney's first independently produced picture, "The Devil's Disciple." He just signed with Universal for a nice part.

The actor will appear opposite Mary Nolan in "Take It or Leave It," which is due to open in "Rope" and "The Desert Song."

Universal was so pleased with the actor's work in "Twelve O'Clock High" that the organization decided not to let him go.

Douglas was born in England, but came to this country early in life. He has until recently been appearing in musical comedy in New York and other eastern cities, playing the lead in "Rope" and "The Desert Song."

CHAIN SYSTEM SALES GREATER

Safeway Breaks All Records During August

Gross Turnover for Month Nears $20,000,000

Other Organizations Report Large Increases

August sales of Safeway Stores, Inc., increased 116.18 per cent over the volume for August, 1928, to reach a total of $19,670,307, marking the largest monthly gain over a previous year ever recorded and the highest volume for any month in the history of the company. Edvard Dale, vice-president in charge of Southern California operations, announced yesterday. August, 1928, sales totaled $8,086,800.

Sales of the entire system for the first eight months of the current year aggregated $121,664,074. This compares with $62,580,772 in sales reported for the corresponding period last year and represents a gain of $67,113,892 or 102.38 per cent.

The Safeway system at the present time operates 3396 units and 969 meat markets. At this time last year there were about 1400 units in operation, the expansion having taken place largely through consolidation with other systems.

In Southern California the company operates 700 units, Mr. Dale stated. The Piggy Wiggly Western States Company was acquired by the Safeway organization late last year.

Work is nearing completion on a new stock and warehouse here for fruits and vegetables which represents a capital outlay of about $350,000. A new ice cream plant was recently completed in Los Angeles and is now operating at capacity, Mr. Dale stated. The Los Angeles plant will be used in connection with the recent development of the company here, will ship 100 cars of candy throughout the Western States before November 1.

SALES OF CHAIN STORES ADVANCE

NATIONAL Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—Sales of chain store systems reported here today:

National Tea Company, August sales totalled $1,621,824, up 8.8 per cent over August, 1928. The slight increase expressed was due to the fact that more stores were open during the same period last year.

Woolworth Co.—August sales totaled $2,000,000, up 42.7 per cent and for the eight months, $16,460,394, up 25.64 per cent.

Walden & Co.—August sales totaled $2,717,948, up 8.2 per cent, and for the eight months, $20,001,118, up 21.75 per cent and for the eight months, $16,358,604, up 21.71 per cent.

Wards—August sales totaled $2,012,191, up 10.1 per cent and for the eight months, $16,151,159, up 10.45 per cent.

Asbestos Units Plan to Merge

CHICAGO, Sept. 9. (Exclusive)—Plans have been laid for the merger of the Southern Asbestos Company with the Thermold Company, according to R. C. Morris, president of the latter, who stated here today that the consolidated organization will result in the second largest brake-lining company in the country and one of the largest earning properties in the asbestos industry.

The Thermold Company already owns a controlling interest in the Southern Asbestos Company. In a letter addressed to minority stockholders, the Thermold Company is offering to exchange four and one-third shares of its 7 per cent convertible preferred stock for ten shares of Asbestos common. The offer expire October 10.

SAUNDERS IN "COME-BACK"

Memphis Groceryman Here to Attend Opening of Stores; is Second Successful Chain Venture

BY PARLE E. CROWE

Clarence Saunders of Memphis, Tenn., now engaged in his second successful venture in grocery stores, is in Los Angeles attending the opening of nineteen units of Clarence Saunders Pacific Stores, Inc. This is the name under which the founder of the Piggy Wiggly stores is coming back on the Pacific Coast, and it is the vehicle through which he hopes to build up a chain to rival the one he lost.

His plan calls for several hundred stores in California, Oregon and Washington within a few months, and eventually as many as the Piggy Wiggly system operated. This is the field promises to stir further intensity the competition among the grocery chains, the largest of which are Safeway, which controls Piggy Wiggly Western, and MacMarr Stores.

Richfield Oil Company of California has acquired the marketing facilities and distributing organization of the Inland Empire Refining Company of Spokane, Wash., according to an announcement yesterday by C. M. Fuller, president of the Richfield company.

The Inland company, serving seventy-five stations and garages in Spokane, has been distributor for Richfield products since May

Mars, vice-president and general manager, is merged with Richfield so that it might concentrate its efforts in Montana, where plans for building up an extensive distributing organization for Richfield gasoline and other petroleum products are under way.

With a view to making Spokane a storage center for a considerable part of the surrounding territory, the Richfield Company plans to build additional steel storage and expand distilling facilities for

A. G. Tucker, formerly branch manager for Richfield at San Jose, has been transferred to Spokane, where he will work under the jurisdiction of Rees H. Hall, Richfield's district manager for Northern Idaho and British Columbia.

"Sole Owner of My Name."

His one store in Memphis grew into fifty-six, after which twenty-six in Little Rock, Texarkana and Birmingham were acquired. With the fifty-six as a nucleus, Clarence Saunders started his second chain.

After the re-entrance of the Piggy

Wiggly chain in Wall street, the Memphis groceryman borrowed $12,000 and started a store in Memphis. Only after a number of court reversals was he allowed to use the name of "Clarence Saunders" over his door, and now he has a chain of which store he features the title.

"BEATEN BY BEARS"

After having successfully introduced the idea of self-service in grocery stores to his Piggy Wiggly chain, and built up a nation-wide system of more than 1,000 stores, Mr. Saunders went to Wall street to do battle with the bears. His disastrous defeat furnished a good deal of newspaper copy at the time, but not nearly so much as his plucky and victorious fight to come.

On the Pacific Coast Clarence Saunders stores will be operated directly by a 100 per cent owned subsidiary, of which Mr. Saunders is president. This subsidiary has acquired from the parent company the exclusive license in perpetuity to operate all the Clarence Saunders stores in California, Oregon and Washington.

Stock of the Pacific Coast company is listed on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange and the shares are already well distributed in the Pacific Coast States.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Sept. 9. (P) - Mixed indications were apparent in another light session of the bond market today. The favorable reception accorded the September issue of the 4% U.S. Government bearing 4% per cent interest was a factor in revealing a better tendency, particularly in the long-term investment securities which showed moderate improvement, but the trend of the general list was still up.

The Treasury announced that subscriptions to the new issue in the close of business today and a good number were received from individual investors. A heavy oversubscription was expected of the tax bonds, which were placed through the Federal Reserve banks.

The inquiry for the notes indicated that a better public response would be made than in previous issues.

The market with interest in the announcement that the State of New York had issued its first 4% tax bonds.

It was noted in anticipation of a long term bond issue early next month.

It was also noted that the oversubscription of the state bonds was due to the fact that the state bonds were more favorable for a bond issue in a few years.

Convertible bonds in lower ground throughout most of the day in response to the new issue of the 4% tax bonds close was a point or two above the lowest quotations of 4% bonds, a maximum dip of about 6 points, finishing at 213 1/2 for a bond issue of 4% bonds.

EMBER 10, 1929.—[PART II.]

SUNDAY MORNING.
WENLAKE MAY ASK NEW TRIAL
to be Sentenced
Today in Murder

Term Recommended by Jury at Conviction

Opened Last April on Finding of Torso

Mr. Frank F. Westlake, 57-year-old former physician, who was condemned last Saturday of the "torso" killing of Mrs. Laura B. Sutton, is expected to appear before Superior Court today for sentence. The defense, represented by Dr. Westlake of Los Angeles, asserted and recommended his environment was responsible after the jury had deliberated more than thirty-five hours. It is probable that the defense will move for a new trial.

Dr. Westlake was asserted to have sought Mrs. Sutton to gain control of her estate. He was arrested following the finding April 4, has been held in the Los Angeles River since. The torso and a small skull, found nearly a month later in the river, were identified by State witnesses as those of Mrs. Sutton. The prosecution charged Dr. Westlake dismembered the woman's body in an effort to conceal the crime.

The witness stated Dr. Westlake denied he had any knowledge of her whereabouts. The case was prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jordan and Stahlman, while William T. Kendrick, Jr., represented Dr. Westlake.

JUVENILE HALL SHUT-INS GUESTS AT 'TIMES' PARTY

Fireworks and lemonade and a show—that was the program of a party given last night for the children at Juvenile Hall by The Times. Of course the children enjoyed the fireworks, of course they quaffed the lemonade with gusto, but it seemed to be the show which they enjoyed the most, and probably because all the performers with the exception of two masters of ceremonies, also were children.

The masters of ceremonies were that popular pair of radio comedians known as "Eight Ball" and Charley Long, who in private life are Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Day. They gave a long act of their own, introduced all the other acts and filled all waits with slapstick buffoonery which brought shrieks of laughter from the little shut-ins.

The list of young performers included Jackie Condon of "Our Gang," who sang and danced, later in the river, were identified by State witnesses as those of Mrs. Sutton. The prosecution charged Dr. Westlake dismembered the woman's body in an effort to conceal the crime.

The witness stated Dr. Westlake denied he had any knowledge of her whereabouts. The case was prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jordan and Stahlman, while William T. Kendrick, Jr., represented Dr. Westlake.

PLAYGROUND POPULARITY MADE CLEAR

Hjelte Reports Total of 21,803 Paid Visits There
During Last Week

Average daily attendance at the three playgrounds in Los Angeles during the week just closed was 21,803, according to report of Supt. Hjelte to the Playground and Recreation Commission. Of this 15,835 were participants in the various activities and 5,967 were spectators.

Attendance at the nine pools conducted by the city totaled $24,000, of which $4,000 were bathtubs. The 4,000 were spectators from the pools from July 1 to the total $32,826.44, compared to $40,149.71 last year for the same period. The drop in attendance, which drove the bulk of the population to the beach for the cool sea breeze.

Rental of boats in the valley country was being opened up by the warm weather, which drove the bulk of the population to the beach for the cool sea breeze.

Another feature of the program which the children enjoyed was an exhibition flight of miniature kites given by kite designers under the direction of Louis Orsatti of the City Playground Department. The party was arranged by C. A. Price of The Times' promotion department, and Walter R. Baumhart, recreation director of Juvenile Hall.

Police Station Demand Shifted

Council has referred to the Police Commission the demand of City Health Officer Parrish that steps be taken either to remedy conditions at Central Police Station, or else to find a new location.

Large estates in Portuguese East Africa are building electric power plants for lighting purposes.

GRAFT ACTION DUE TODAY

Grand Jury Expected to Proceed Against at Least Eight Policemen in Corruption Inquiry

Grand jury action against at least eight Los Angeles police officers is expected today when the inquiry is resumed into asserted graft and bootlegging protection attributed to certain members of the city law enforcement department.

Harry D. McDonald of 206 Gretna street, Whittier, whose asserted confession precipitated the inquiry, is expected to be called before the grand jury again to continue his story of connivance with police while operating in Los Angeles for five years as an illicit liquor dealer.

McDonald, together with his special body guard, spent some time yesterday with Percy Hammom, deputy District-Attorney in charge of grand-jury inquiries, in endeavoring to corroborate his story. Other witnesses believed to be bootleggers, who will be asked to testify before the grand jury today.

Although twenty-five police officers have been named in the investigation thus far, sufficient evidence has been obtained to warrant the grand jury in indicting only a few of them and the inquiry may be continued for several days before any trial bills are returned, it was revealed yesterday.

Believing that there have been leaks from the grand jury to some of the officers involved, Ellwood De Garmo, foreman, has ordered strict secrecy maintained regarding future developments.

Library Offers Print Exhibition

An exhibition of prints from the public library's collection of dry points, etchings, aquatints and wood cuts will be on display in the Central Library until the end of October. The prints are the work of California artists, including Arthur B. Dodge, Arthur Miller, Franz Geritz, Henri de Krauf, Cornelius Botke, Carl Oscar Borg and Harold Doolittle.

This is the first exhibit of the season at the library. Another exhibit shows the work of the great American etcher, Joseph Pennell.

NAME CHANGE APPROVED
On recommendation of the City Planning Committee, Council has recommended that the name of Provo street between Third and Day street be changed to Slusher avenue, but that no change be made in Provo street's name from Alcott street southerly. The City Attorney has been instructed to prepare the necessary ordinance.

Today's Bible Text

"Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unaware." Hebrews xiii:1.

WONDERS OF SCIENCE

The man who can dig up the fragment of a tooth that has been buried for a million years and reconstruct the type of mammal from which it was taken is more than a scientist. He is a genius—or a wizard.

NO PENT-UP UTICA

In the discussion of the tariff bill Senator Smoot asks his colleagues to confine their debate to the tariff. But an old-timer should know that there can be no muzzling of the Senate. A Senator has the right to talk at any time and on any subject.

NO CENSORS NEEDED

Under the laws we have the police can stop a show that isn't clean. They do it now and then. They did it a few days ago. Then the prediction was shimed up. The objectionable naughtiness was taken out and the actors were suffered to go back to their parts. That is all that is necessary. No show can thrive on obscenity.

SIGN OF THE PIRATE

There is one crusader in town who will never be happy until it is provided that the skull and crossbones shall be displayed on every bottle containing a preparation carrying more than half of one per cent of alcohol. He argues that beyond that all is piracy and therefore those who put it forth should be required to show the pirate flag.

HOME OF THE ICY FOG

Newfoundland is seeking to sell its title to Labrador to the Dominion of Canada. There was a day when Labrador was thought to be worthless as a dead leaf, but in view of modern development in the Hudson Bay country it may have notable value. Anyhow it will be handy for flyers to check in and out on their way around the world by the northern route.

EAST DIVORCE

The Mexican Supreme Court indicates the belief that the divorce laws of Yucatan are unconstitutional. The fine points to the decision are not given here in detail but it may lead to embarrassment for a few Californians who took advantage of the ease and simplicity with which Yucatan decrees were obtained. These cheap and ready divorces are frequently a bad buy.

AMERICAN SLANG

English authorities have been making a little research into the use of slang in their country and find that most of the slang words and phrases that are really popular with the Britons are of American origin. Because of our background we have never been afraid to indicate disrespect for the English language. We are ever ready to twist it to suit our moods and manners. There is nothing sacred about an English dictionary.

IN SHORT ORDER

The most optimistic statement of recent vintage is that made by a skilled investigator in the District Attorney's office in Chicago. He announced with emphasis that a one-legged prohibition agent riding a bicycle could dry up Chicago's loop district in half a day. All combined efforts for the last ten years have been unavailing in mopping up this territory. There could be no harm now in trying a one-legged sleuth. Most anyone would be willing to lend him a bicycle for a full day.

GOLFING GENTLEMAN

A Bobby Jones graciously declined a $50,000 home in Atlanta tendered to him by admiring fellow-citizens. More recently he refused an offer of $50,000 made by the Lasky interests for two weeks' work in a golf talkie. Here is one man who does not intend to imperil his standing as an amateur. He says that these offers come to him not as an Atlanta lawyer, but as a golf champion, and he does not intend to trade upon the latter achievement. His denial is a brave performance for Bobby is not rich and his game is apt to be a high expense instead of the source of revenue he might easily make of it. He could readily make $100,000 a year if he went after it in the customary professional manner.

THE WASTE OF GAS

The shocking and wicked waste of natural gas in the oil fields of California is not merely a local matter.

In a larger sense, it is not even a national matter only. It is a problem that belongs to the whole world. Certainly, it is not a matter to be left to the whims of the oil operators, some of whom seem to have adopted the policy of "After me, the deluge."

The so-called ownership of oil involves property rights on a different basis from that of any other known commodity.

The hole sunk into the ground may be on real estate in which the ownership is vested, in some private individual. But the gas and oil which are sucked up this shaft come from underground lakes and deposits whose position and extent are unknown and whose ownership is, of themselves, registerable at the last-known address published in The Times of intervals.

WONDERS OF SCIENCE

The man who can dig up the fragment of a tooth that has been buried for a million years and reconstruct the type of mammal from which it was taken is more than a scientist. He is a genius—or a wizard.

NO PENT-UP UTICA

In the discussion of the tariff bill Senator Smoot asks his colleagues to confine their debate to the tariff. But an old-timer should know that there can be no muzzling of the Senate. A Senator has the right to talk at any time and on any subject.

NO CENSORS NEEDED

Under the laws we have the police can stop a show that isn't clean. They do it now and then. They did it a few days ago. Then the prediction was shimed up. The objectionable naughtiness was taken out and the actors were suffered to go back to their parts. That is all that is necessary. No show can thrive on obscenity.

SIGN OF THE PIRATE

There is one crusader in town who will never be happy until it is provided that the skull and crossbones shall be displayed on every bottle containing a preparation carrying more than half of one per cent of alcohol. He argues that beyond that all is piracy and therefore those who put it forth should be required to show the pirate flag.

HOME OF THE ICY FOG

Newfoundland is seeking to sell its title to Labrador to the Dominion of Canada. There was a day when Labrador was thought to be worthless as a dead leaf, but in view of modern development in the Hudson Bay country it may have notable value. Anyhow it will be handy for flyers to check in and out on their way around the world by the northern route.

EAST DIVORCE

The Mexican Supreme Court indicates the belief that the divorce laws of Yucatan are unconstitutional. The fine points to the decision are not given here in detail but it may lead to embarrassment for a few Californians who took advantage of the ease and simplicity with which Yucatan decrees were obtained. These cheap and ready divorces are frequently a bad buy.

AMERICAN SLANG

English authorities have been making a little research into the use of slang in their country and find that most of the slang words and phrases that are really popular with the Britons are of American origin. Because of our background we have never been afraid to indicate disrespect for the English language. We are ever ready to twist it to suit our moods and manners. There is nothing sacred about an English dictionary.

IN SHORT ORDER

The most optimistic statement of recent vintage is that made by a skilled investigator in the District Attorney's office in Chicago. He announced with emphasis that a one-legged prohibition agent riding a bicycle could dry up Chicago's loop district in half a day. All combined efforts for the last ten years have been unavailing in mopping up this territory. There could be no harm now in trying a one-legged sleuth. Most anyone would be willing to lend him a bicycle for a full day.

GOLFING GENTLEMAN

A Bobby Jones graciously declined a $50,000 home in Atlanta tendered to him by admiring fellow-citizens. More recently he refused an offer of $50,000 made by the Lasky interests for two weeks' work in a golf talkie. Here is one man who does not intend to imperil his standing as an amateur. He says that these offers come to him not as an Atlanta lawyer, but as a golf champion, and he does not intend to trade upon the latter achievement. His denial is a brave performance for Bobby is not rich and his game is apt to be a high expense instead of the source of revenue he might easily make of it. He could readily make $100,000 a year if he went after it in the customary professional manner.

WIFE SUING ELDER SON OF SUNDAY

Alimony Petition Prepared After Asserted Breach of Kindness Agreement

Preparation of a petition for alimony of $1250 monthly in behalf of Mrs. George Sunday, wife of the elder son of the evangelist, was announced yesterday by Attorney Richard Cantillon following the disclosure of a recent separation, although she retains the Sunday home at 120 South Irving Boulevard and custody of two sons, 11 and 13 years of age.

The suit for the alimony will be brought against the real-estate firm of George Sunday, Inc., Cantillon said, because, under an agreement in November, 1928, Sunday is asserted to have agreed to treat his wife with "conjugal kindness" or pay her $1250 a month.

Mrs. Sunday's counsel asserts the Sunday real-estate firm breached the agreement. Now that Mrs. Sunday feels she has not been treated with the "conjugal kindness" in the agreement, the firm and its board of directors are responsible for the payment.

The marital rift in the family of George Sunday is the second to come to light in branches of the family of the evangelist within two weeks. Last week Mrs. Mae Sunday, wife of Billy Sunday, Jr., filed a divorce suit in Superior Court.

George Sunday and his wife married in 1916 and were married approximately fifteen years. The two sons are the only children.

Mrs. Sunday last night confirmed the announcement of her attorney. She said she had instructed Cantillon to proceed at once with the suit, but she is undetermined on possible divorce action.

Mr. and Mrs. Roopke have been separated practically all summer," she said, "and I have repeatedly sought a settlement with our agreement specified, but have never been given an opportunity for a conference. Mrs. W. A. Sunday, my husband's mother, is one of the principal stockholders in the Sun- day newspaper and she has declined to discuss a settlement with me, as there is nothing left for me to do but file suit."

Countess Gets Rehearing Today in Fraud Appeal

A rehearing of the appeal of the Countess Charlotte de Chanquet, Hollywood motion-picture writer, will be held in Superior Judge Agger's court today.

The Countess was convicted of defrauding the city of Pasadena January 13, last, and sentenced to serve ninety days in the County Jail. This trial was held in Municipal Court. Through her attorney, S. S. Hahn, she appealed to Superior Court, but the Municipal Court judgment was upheld.

Basing her plea on asserted legal errors in the lower court proceedings, the countess then succeeded in obtaining a rehearing in Superior Court.

KEEPING IT QUIET

I have a strange and weird belief in healing ills with mustard oil, and save myself a lot of grief by keeping it beneath my hat. I see poor mortals mourn and weep with ill they think could not be cured; I know the tallow of a sheep would stop the aches they've long endured. Said tallow rubbed upon the breast will cure bronchitis and the flu, and sufferers who could not rest may go and sleep the long night through. That tallow spread upon the knee, when rheumatism finds the joint, will make that malady aint. I use the motion grease will heal where other balms and ointments fail, and oftentimes I kindly feel like telling sufferers the tale. I used to do it long ago. I bore my message here and there, attempting to assuage the woe of people battling with despair. And those and tawdry were the thanks, the gratitude I used to catch: men said I was the chief of cranks, and should be in the books hatch. They said I was a loose jay, whose head was full of prunes or greens; they bade me take my tale way and tell it to the worse marines. They made complaint to the police, who boldly held that motion grease would drive out pain and heal the sick. They sometimes chased me to my booth, and threw old eggs and other fruit they would not listen to the Truth, but greedily ate it with jeer and hoot. I still believe that motion grease is good for every round and sore, even being strong for bony bones, but do not say so any more.

PREPARED will be practically completed today for the presentation of the tenth annual Dahlia Show under the auspices of the Southern California Dahlia Society, which opens at the Biltmore Thursday evening. The show will be open until 10 p.m. Friday.

With the largest number of both professional and amateur entries ever received in the history of the exhibition, it is estimated that over 500,000 individuals, dahlia bloomers will be used for the show, the greatest number promising a colorful and dazzling floral effect in the main ballroom and foyer of the hotel.

Following the completion of the transportation displays will this year be sent from great distances, rare creations being entered from many Eastern growing districts. An elaborate display of phenomenal roses, newly developed by a California horticulturist, will be an unusual feature of the show. The displays will be arranged in uniform vases and baskets on tables completely covered with black patent leather extending to the floor.

It necessitated a bitter argument to convince Alfred Edward Roopke it was time to change his shirt. Mrs. Vera Netta Roopke asserts in her divorce petition on file yesterday,

U.S.C. FRESHMEN RUSH TO ENROLL

One Thousand New Students
Croud Offices

Total Registration May be 17,000 by Close

Coaches Jubilant as Lists Show Many Stars

One thousand freshmen crowded enrollment offices at the University of Southern California yesterday as the fiftieth annual freshman week of the university opened. By the time registration of both freshmen and upper-classmen is completed at the end of the week, it is estimated the total enrollment in all schools and colleges of the university will exceed 17,000.

Following the English classification test, required of all entering students, the freshmen were entertained at an assembly in Howard Auditorium. President R. B. Von Kleinmuntz welcomed the new students and Dr. G. W. M. Conner spoke on "Modern College Ideals." Student-body officers and campus leaders were introduced, as were the dean of men and dean of women, Dr. Francis Bacon and Dr. Mary Sinclair Crawford. The freshmen were guests of the university at luncheon in the Trojan Student Union at noon and in the afternoon completed their English tests.

Athletic coaches were jubilant as Alfred Wesson, head of the university news bureau, compiled the list of football, baseball and track stars coming to U.S.C. Headed by Fred Wyman, Glendale aviation star, the freshmen were kings of the campus yesterday, inasmuch as actual hazing does not begin until next week.

This morning the scholastic aptitude test, required of all freshmen, will be given at 8 a.m. At noon the co-eds will be guests of various co-ed organizations at lunch in the Student Union, while the Trojan Knights and the two inter-fraternity councils will set the new men in the Trojan grill.

Actual registration begins at 1:30 p.m. and foreign-language classification tests also will be given at that time. At 3:30 p.m. a special assembly will be held at which time six campus leaders will speak on extra-curricular activities.

TWENTY-SIX COURSES FOR U.S.C. CITY HALL CLASSES

Special course classes including twenty-six courses, which range from bookbinding to political science, will be inaugurated by the University of Southern California next week, it was announced yesterday. The classes will be held at the City Hall on days convenient to the hundreds of city and county employees who have expressed a desire to take special courses. The first enrollment classes will be on the 16th instant, beginning at 5:45 p.m.

Classes will include studies in zoology, engineering, mathematics, science, English, accounting, regional planning, water, power and highway training, surveying, secretarial practice, retailing, word processing and many other subjects. There will be night classes as well as day classes.

Enrollments are being taken in the Wilson Building, First and Spring streets.

Funeral Rites for L. Hughes Will be Today

Funeral rites for Lawrence Hughes, founder of the Hughes Ice Cream Company, who died at the Good Samaritan Hospital Saturday following an operation for appendicitis, will be held this morning at 10 a.m. at the Hughes residence, 232 West Washington street. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Mausoleum.

Mr. Hughes, who was 47 years of age, came to Los Angeles ten years ago from Denver. He was unmarried and lived in his home with a sister, Mrs. Oscar Nelson, 59 South Mansfield avenue. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, Breakfast Club, Los Angeles Athletic Club and the Santa Monica Beach Club.

The active pallbearers will be A. P. Jones, F. J. Van Matre, O. Schatz, John B. Beman, T. E. Day and E. L. Pettifit. The honorary pallbearers are Lew Fonda, O. B. Wyman, Tom Miranda, Dr. Julius Endelman, George E. Piatt, Jack Smith, Harry F. Grange, B. M. Dorman, C. J. Alfred, S. C. Nockertson, Fred C. Johnson, W. E. Johnson, W. H. Guyton, C. Marchetti, E. V. ### Suspected Bank Bandit Brought Back After Row

Following a week's battle which finally ended in a direct personal appeal to Gov. Leslie of Indiana, Detective Lieutenant Malina of the police robbery squad returned here yesterday with Fred Cooma, alias Cooke, suspected bank bandit, in custody.

Cooke will stand trial here within a few days for the robbery of a branch of the Seaboard National Bank, February 13, 1927, in which he is charged with having obtained $2200.

Malina reported that he was compelled to carry extradition proceedings through a series of litigations in Indianapolis, and was able to succeed only when Gov. Leslie happened to make an unexpected visit to the city.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

The marriage of Miss Katherine Coleman, attractive daughter of Mrs. Isabel Derby Coleman, formerly of Chicago, now making her home at La Jolla street, and Silas Cobb Coleman of New York, to Homer Laughlin III, son of Mrs. Edwards-Loughlin and Homer Laughlin, the charmingly appointed event of Saturday evening, the ceremony taking place in All Saints' Church, Beverly Hills, with Rev. William H. Fleetwood officiating.

The dainty bride, given in marriage by her uncle, James D. Webb, was charming in a frothy white chiffon gown, a model with long tight bodice, her veil of tulle held in place by orange blossoms, and she carried an arm shawl of gauze and lillies of the valley.

Miss Ross Elliott was maid of honor, and Miss Virginia Ode, Miss Harriet Nevin were bridesmaids. They wore frocks in pastel shades of taffeta with hats of tulle and slippers to match, and carried armfuls of sweet peas to harmonize with their gowns. A profusion of pink anemones, lilies and ferns formed the background for the ceremony.

Webb Thompson of San Francisco served as best man and Mark Liggett, Spencer Thorpe, Clarke Harwell and Thomas E. Greene of Palo Alto were ushers. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding dinner was served the bridal party relatives and a few close friends at the home of Mrs. Margaret Derby in Ruxford Drive, Beverly Hills, after which Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin left on an extended wedding trip, and after their return they will make their future home in Greene street, San Francisco.

Betrothal Announced

One of the lovely affairs of recent date was the Chinese bridge-tie with which Mr. and Mrs. Hall Fifth street, Alameda, Saturday afternoon in honor of their attractive daughter, Miss Margaret Hall, the occasion serving also to formally announce the engagement of the young honoree to Samuel Wetherill Hill of San Francisco, Coast supervisor of the Midvale Steel Corporation.

The Chinese motif was charmingly carried out in detail and the secret revealed by means of rice cake with the names of the betrothed. White carnations and asters in pale shades were used in the decorations of the house and tea table.

Those included were Mrs. Raymond Houston, Mrs. Whitney Marshall, Mrs. Dorsey Caldwell, Mrs. Marshall Hall, Mrs. Ross Edgell, Mrs. Marvin Allen, Mrs. Roscoe Major, Mrs. Mabel Moore, Mrs. Lillian Montgomery, Mrs. Earl Rogers, Mrs. James Tennyson, Mrs. Oscar Schepming, Mrs. Harvey Sharpless, Mrs. Tom Reed, Mrs. Virgil Wyckoff, Mrs. Fred Redman, Bebe Jones, Miss Pat Monahan and Miss Agnes.

In the evening Mr. Hill entertained with a dinner-dance at the Ambassador Cocolani Grove, honoring his fiance. The wedding is scheduled for October 8.

For Visitor

Honoring Mrs. A. Law of Florida, who is the houseguest of Mrs. Ray F. Emmenger in South Serrano street, a charmingly appointed bridge-luncheon is being given this afternoon at the Palomar by Mrs. Howard R. Miner of Burnside avenue, a dozen guests being invited.

Dinner Party

Dr. and Mrs. Uriel Bannister Bray (Evelyn Lewis) entertained the Windsor Club of the college of music, University of Southern California, at their home on Wilton Place Wednesday evening with a dinner party, featuring the Hawaiian motif.

Organized for the promotion of better interpretation and creation of higher forms of music, the Windsor Club is composed of a selective group of students and members of the Trojan College. Many several of whom presented their own compositions at the dinner party.

The guests included Mrs. George Edwin Lewis, mother of the hostess; Charles Pemberton, sponsor of the club and faculty member of the college of music, Southern California; Dr. and Mrs. Michael Morris, both Parlow, Miss Betty Donnelly, Earle Lincoln Stone, James Morrison, Leland Auer, John Garth, Williamson Heartbars and Morris Broda. Dr. and Mrs. Morris were married last June and are making their home temporarily with the bride's parents on Wilton Place until their own home is completed in Palos Verdes.

Sturthal-Pie

The marriage of Miss Elsa Sturthal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Sturthal, who were wedward to Howard Blue August 31, last, with Father Michael Lee officiating.

Vern Christensen served as best man, and the ushers were Emil Sturthal and Tom Sturthal, brothers of the bride. Miss Ola Sturthal, sister of the bride, wearing yellow chiffon, with hat to match, and carrying salmon-colored roses, was maid of honor, and Helen Blue, sister of the bridegroom, in orchid tutu with hat to match, and carrying roses, was flower girl.

The bride was lovely in oyster white satin and old Chantilly lace, the long tulip veil and lace cap held in place by orange blossoms, and she carried white roses, lilies of the valley and gardenias.

The church was decorated with pink carnations, roses and blue delphinium.

Roy Carter, a friend of the bride's family for many years, played the wedding march on the organ, and also played during the ceremony.

Breakfast was served at the Polynesian Tea Room following the ceremony for the immediate families and the bridal party.

Mr. and Mrs. Blue left for a honeymoon trip, planning to go as far north as Canada, and upon their return will make their home in Hollywood.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children, and will forward to this office, will bring a personal reply.

She wants to help mothers care for the nursery, general constitution, exercises, outfit for new baby, sleep training, teething troubles, strumming ammonium urine, lime oil, orange juice, liver, worms, vomiting, constipation, diarrhea, colic, periods of nursing, colds, live oil, earache, rashes, etc.

She can answer all questions about these subjects.

It is better to send a letter than a postcard, as it gives more room.

If your particular question is not answered, you may add a postscript.

Her address is 1000 N. Highland, Los Angeles.

She will be glad to give you a personal reply.

BEHAVIOR OF CHILD SHOULD HAVE NO CONNECTION WITH HIS ALLOWANCE

Mrs. R. W. R. writes:

"I have been reading a recent letter and am surprised. I am going to tell you what I am doing and please tell me if I am right.

"My little girl is 7 years old and we have been giving her an allowance of twenty-five cents a week and this is what I have been doing: Every Monday morning I hang up a fresh chart with twenty-five marks on it. Every time she does anything naughty or doesn't mind me she has to rub off one to five marks depending upon how bad it is. At the end of the week we count up the marks and her allowance is the number of marks that are left.

"Now I have always felt that it was wrong to pay a child for being good, because they get so many allowances that I don't know what to do. But I am really not paying her for being good, but for not being naughty.

"In other words, she pays a fine for naughtiness.

"I read everything about chil-

SUSPECT FLEES
BOOKING ROOMOne of Eight Accused as Burglars RecapturedEscapade Adds New Charge of Automobile TheftYouths Held as Robbers of Jewelry Store*

Shortly after being arrested with seven other boys on a suspicion of burglary charge Sunday night, Charles J. Stuart, 18 years of age, of 3131 Los Flores Boulevard, Huntington Park, enjoyed a brief spell of freedom, police revealed yesterday; but he is back in jail again with two other charges against his name. He was recaptured several hours after making a successful break from the booking room of the Seventy-sixth street station police station and suspicion of burglary, suspicion of theft of an automobile and escape.

Booking of the eight boys presented such a problem that Stuart had no difficulty in making an unseen exit through one of the office windows, according to Detective Lieutenant Gilliland and Stevens, in charge of the investigation. Going to Seventy-sixth street and Park avenue, they charge, he met William C. Powers, 15, of 7218 Holmes avenue, and with him stole an automobile from 6811 Miramonte avenue, in which they drove to Venice.

There, it is further charged, they stole another automobile after breaking into a grocery store and stealing some candy. Returning to Los Angeles the boys abandoned the second car at Seventy-sixth street and Miramonte avenue and sought refuge in a vacant house at 7316 Holmes avenue, the detectives assert. They were taken in custody at that address.

Stuart and the other boys, excepting Powers, are facing charges of having robbed a jewelry store Saturday night.

Cornero Case Off Calendar

The name of Tony Cornero, fugitive asserted rum-runner, was wiped off the court calendar, at least temporarily, yesterday when United States District Judge Jacobs ordered a case against him taken off calendar. The case has been pending for some time. Cornero is accused of violating the National Prohibition Act.

Pretty Girls to Ride Educated Mounts

They Will Perform at Circus

CLOWNS, acrobats, wild beasts, freaks, pink lemons and popcorn will occupy the spotlight in Los Angeles this week when the combined Ringling Brothers' and Barnum and Bailey circus pitches its tents at Washington and Hill streets for a four days' engagement beginning Thursday.

And horses! They, too, will be there to strut their stuff. There will be frantastic mounts and "high school" steeds and comedy "skated" and glossy white chargers ridden by pretty equestriennes, and they will contribute no small part to the long program to be presented in the grand arena.

The big top includes this year a number of new acts, it is announced, the feature innovation being Hugo Zucchini, billed as the human projectile. Zucchini is an avenue and Sycamore street.

FORMER PRISON INMATE JAILEDWoman Attorney Tells of Being Held CaptiveRecounts Warding Advances for More Than DayMan Had Been Her Client and Received Help*

How a comely young woman attorney was held captive for more than twenty-four hours and subjected to terrifying advances by a former client she had aided upon his release from prison was told by police yesterday when Carl H. Howe, 28 years of age of 1228 McDuff street, was arrested and held in City Jail on a charge of assault with intent to commit a statutory offense.

The woman is Miss Caroline R. Kellogg, an attorney with offices at 511 East Fifty-second street. Howe is asserted to have made the advances from Saturday morning until Sunday afternoon, last, while keeping her imprisoned in his home.

Howe, made Miss Kellogg's acquaintance early in 1928, when he represented her in a charge of child-stealing.

He was convicted, however, and sentenced to one to twenty years in Folsom. Released May 28, last, he returned to Los Angeles and enlisted Miss Kellogg's help in obtaining employment as a driver for one of the city-owned bus lines. In addition to this benefaction, police assert, Miss Kellogg supplied him with funds in his emergency.

Last Saturday, under the pretense of discussing a legal matter, Howe requested her to visit him at his home. On her arrival, according to the police, he locked the door, concealed the keys, and when she repudiated his advances kept her a prisoner throughout the night.

EX-TRAVELER'S AID OFFICER VISITS HERE

Miss G. Eleanor Kimble, former secretary of the Travelers' Aid Society, is visiting in Los Angeles after an absence of about three years. Kimble was active in establishing local branches of the society and has kept in touch with the work during her absence. When she left Los Angeles she became a teacher of sociology at Tulane University in New Orleans. Now she plans to enter the University of Chicago and begin her work for a doctor's degree. She will leave here about the 10th inst.

SUTCLIFFE PLOT
JAILED ANOTHERAsserted 'Framer' of Killing Plan in CustodySuspect Says Husband Urged Wife to Given 'Ride'Conspiracy Charges Echo Bay City Attack*

Joining Patrick R. Mullen and Orville T. Forrester, who were jailed Sunday, Leo Wheeler, 27 years of age of 311 East Fifty-second street, yesterday was named a third suspect in the asserted prison-hatched plot to kill Mrs. Pearl Sutcliffe of 304 South Orange Drive, wealthy society matron, whose property holdings, police say, caused her to be marked for death. Wheeler was booked on suspicion of conspiracy to commit murder—the same charge preferred against Mullen and Forrester—following his voluntary appearance at the Wilshire Division Police Station, and his announcement, according to Capt. McClellan, that he is the man whom Walter J. Sutcliffe, husband of the intended victim, commissioned to engineer the slaying.

JAIL ACQUAINTANCE

According to Capt. McClellan, Wheeler said he made the acquaintance of the husband in the San Francisco County Jail where Sutcliffe is held charged with an attack on a young man in a vice company he and several detainees found Mrs. Sutcliffe in a San Francisco hotel room some months ago. Sutcliffe, he said, paid him $500 on his agreement to come to Los Angeles, when released and "take the wife for a ride."

Arriving here, Capt. McClellan says Wheeler told him, he visited Mrs. Sutcliffe several times, while secretly arranging details of the slaying. But his funds became depleted, necessitating two trips to San Francisco for the purpose of obtaining an additional $1000 in expense money from Sutcliffe. Unsuccessful, he returned to Los Angeles and confessed to Mrs. Sutcliffe her husband's asserted plot to rid himself of her in order to obtain possession of her property.

Goes to Police

Mrs. Sutcliffe confided her information to police, and Detective Lieutenant Perry and Harper informed, with the result Mullen and Forrester were taken in custody Monday.

While he continued to question him last night Capt. McClellan said he did not believe he would prefer charges against Wheeler.

CAR DEATH
QUIZ WILL OPEN TODAY

Police Hold Autoists on Charge of Driving While in Intoxicated Condition

While an inquest is pending in the death of one woman and another woman was hurt, possibly fatally, police yesterday engineered a drive against reckless motorists which resulted in four being arrested for driving while intoxicated and a fifth on suspicion of manslaughter.

The inquest will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. today in the death of Mrs. I. D. Moreland, 55 years of age of 944 Francisco street. She was struck last Friday according to police, by an automobile driven by Alfred E. Cole, 29, of 1020 South New Hampshire avenue. Cole was held on suspicion of manslaughter.

After Mrs. Alice Ellis, 70, of 2125 Reservoir avenue, was taken to the Georgia Street Receiving Hospital suffering from a paralytic framed pelvis and short Lynn L. Anderson, 24, of 947 West Twelfth street, was arrested on suspicion of driving while intoxicated. Police reported Anderson's car struck Mrs. Ellis as she was crossing North Alvarado street in the上述 area.

Others arrested on suspicion of driving while under the influence of liquor are James Martinson, 32, of 802 South Hoover street whose car crashed into one driven by W. F. Hawkins, 74, of East State street, Los Angeles, at Washington and Figueroa streets; Jack D. Brown, 30, of 727 South Coronado street, after a collision at Washington street and Vermont avenue, and John F. Boterman, 32, of 1414 Campbell street, Alhambra, who is said to have been driving in a careless manner at Seventh and Figueroa streets.

Marilyn Miller, musical comedy star, faces the prospect of an operation for the removal of her tonsils before she returns to New York following her decision to talk pictures, according to announcement at the First National Studio yesterday.

The actress has been suffering from a sore throat, or tonsillitis and her physician has advised an operation, it was said. During the filming of "Sally," her first talkie, production was suspended for several days on account of this affliction and sinus trouble. At present Miss Miller is staying with friends in the film colony at Malibu Beach.

SIGNAL PLEASE REFERRED

On recommendation of the Traffic and Street Lighting Committee, the Council has referred to the Board of Building and Safety Commissioners, all requests for traffic signals at the intersections of Slauson avenue and Budlong avenue and at Pico Boulevard and La Cienega Boulevard.

Ernie Peters Is Short-end in Battle Tonight with Speedy Dado at Olympic

BROWN FIGHTING DOLL MEETS INDIAN BOXER

Filipino Rules Favorite to Defeat Chicago Redskin; Frankie Genaro Ready to Fight Winner Here

Ernie Peters, Chippewa Indian flyweight, is a short-end tonight when he faces Speedy Dado, pride of the Filipinos, at the Olympic. It is a rematch. They boxed a draw several months ago.

Matchmaker Wad Wadham announced yesterday he had practically closed with Frankie Genaro, former fly champion, to box the winner here in October. The match will be at weight and the survivor advanced as the champion of the world.

Dado, the youngster, is improving every time he starts. He has never been extended except in the first.

Peters bout and the one in the Newsboy Brown battle which followed were the Filipinos lost.

The most spectacular showing of Dado was against Tommy Hughes when they squared here recently. Both fighters were on the floor. Few have ever made the little brown doll taste resin.

At 112 pounds, Dado seems to be a little whirling in a class by himself. There aren't a dozen boys in the country who can make this kind of weight.

Even Peters would have to try out below normal strength to make it. Brown did 112 when he boxed Dado, but was plainly too light for his own good. The Filipino injured his shoulder and had to give up the fight.

Practice Starts Today ANGELS, INDIANS DIVIDE

Battle of Homers Goes to Seattle, 8-6, But Horne Pitches Seraphs to 5-3 Nightcap Win

yielded only one run in the remaining rounds, while his mates touched Walsh for three and got credit for the victory. It was Kuhn's first appearance in a Seattle uniform.

HOMERS FEATURE

All six Angels runs resulted from circuit clouts. Welschmire driving home five counters with a pair of homers. Schmitz added a home run under the bat of Eddie Kuhn. Berger's circuit averted Kuhn in the eighth wound up the Seraphs scoring.

Johson blazed Fisch for pitching ground ball to Schmitz, but the truth were known it was Steinecke's fault, for he failed to cover up his signals to the eagle eye of Truck Hannah.

Seattle got a one-run lead off Walsh in the second when Almeda doubled on the first before Steinecke's single.

After Stas and Berger had hit safely in the third, Schmitz drove his first homer over the left-field fence to put the Angels ahead, 3 to 1.

Walsh blew up in the sixth when the Indians chased across four runs to make it 4 to 3.

A walk to Barnes, Almeda's single, Fisch's double off the left-field wall and Steinecke's homer, which landed on top of the barrier and then bounced over the screen between the stands and the fence in left field accounted for the quartet of tallies.

Stas reached first in the ninth when Steinecke missed a third strike and Schmitz followed with another circuit clout over the left-field fence to tie the score. Fans then took the mound.

NEAR FIGHT

It looked as though Fisch and Johnson were going to come to blows when the Tribe southpaw was lifted, because it wasn't Fisch's fault that the Angels tied the score.

A walk to Almeda and Fisch's terrible Homer over the center-field fence put the Indians out in front again in the eighth.

Berger got one of those runs back with a home run, but doubles by Muller and Taylor gave Seattle another run in the ninth and sewed up the clash.

Andy House started on the mound for Seattle in the night cap and was given a raking over the coals by the Angels in the first inning. As a result, Harry, a two-hitter, went to Berger. Schmitz's double and Jacob's hit put across four runs before Fipps replaced House.

EARNSHAW MAY HURL OPENER

If the series starts in the West, Chicago will be the betting favorite. Joe McCarthy's team always has been strongest at home. The Athletics, a green team from a standpoint, will undergo a change in ways of accomodating a foreign soil. It will not even be as though they were playing in the somewhat familiar White Sox grounds. The Cub park will be a totally new battle ground to the invaders and the old Illinois home to the defenders.

However, the crowd naturally will be largely pulling for the home team. This will be a place for courage and fighting spirit to show. If, in the face of undoubted handicaps, the Mackmen take that first contest, they not only will be a considerable distance on their way, but will have shown more than meets the eye.

No two men know this any better than Connie Mack and Joe McCarthy. You undoubtedly will see those two leaders shooting for that opening contest with all they have. Pitching and the breaks will decide the winner.

MAD DRIVER IS INJURED

Speeding Road Hog Forced Off Highway

Ninety-Mile-an-Hour Clip Ends in Grief

Held in Hospital on Advice of Motor Officer

ONTARIO, Sept. 9.—An automobile and motorcycle race that exceeded the ninety-mile-an-hour clip in the thick of Sunday afternoon traffic on Riverside road may cost Adolph Stelp, 31 years of age, his life, it was reported today.

Stelp, charged with having forced his motorcycle from the Los Angeles to Ontario in a mad race, crossing motorists off on the sides. He had just passed through Ontario and past Braundale Acres when he was spied by Cragmiles, who took after him on his motorcycle. The traffic officer said his speedometer passed the ninety-mile-an-hour mark, and the motorist was leaving him.

According to Traffic Officer Ralph Cragmiles, Stelp took a corner for his race, crossing motorists off on the sides. He had just passed through Ontario and past Braundale Acres when he was spied by Cragmiles, who took after him on his motorcycle. The traffic officer said his speedometer passed the ninety-mile-an-hour mark, and the motorist was leaving him.

Stelp then met a motorist coming toward him who refused to give ground for the racer. The motorist going toward Ontario kept his place on the highway even though the high-speed competitor was passing him rapidly. Taken to Riverside Hospital in a Draper ambulance from Ontario. There it was reported his shoulder was dislocated, his ribs broken and one lung punctured.

According to Cragmiles, Stelp will be held on a reckless-driving charge.

Santa Barbara Stages Fiesta Admission Day

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 9.—California's Admission Day was celebrated by several hundred pilgrims in Santa Barbara by stirring tales of early days in the annual reunion sponsored by Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West this afternoon. Staged at the Women's Civic Club in Mission Canyon. While this reunion is the chief event this afternoon, residents of the county commemorated the day this morning with the dedication of a plaque to Benjamin Foss and Col. John C. Fremont on the old adobe ruins in the hills above the Valley. A bronze plaque, dedicated to the soldier who captured Santa Barbara for the Union and the pioneer who led him over San Marcos Pass, is mounted on a granite shaft. Members of the Santa Barbara, Mission Canyon and La Cumbre chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution with the pioneers of the county were guests of honor at the reception at the Women's Club this afternoon. There was a musical and speaking program. Dr. William Ellison, head of the social sciences faculty of the Santa Barbara State College, was the principal speaker. One of the interesting parts of the reception was recital of tales of early times by the pioneers. Marcella Bradley is to start the yarn-telling.

Last Rites for Colorado Man

ALBUQUERQUE, Sept. 9.—Last rites for Lewis Hovey, 66 years of age, former Colorado business man, who died Saturday at the Rural Rest Home here from cancer, were conducted this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the chapel of White's funeral home.

The deceased, who was born in Monroe county, Ohio, in 1863, where he spent the early years of his life, later became well known in business in Cripple Creek, Colo., and came to California for his health six years ago.

He had three brothers, A. A. Hovey of Los Angeles, and two living in the East.

Interment took place in Oakdale Cemetery.

BUS LINE ASKS NEW FRANCHISE

EL SEGUNDO, Sept. 9.—Application for an extension on the bus line of the El Segundo Transportation Company, which now runs between this place and Inglewood to Westwood over Centinela avenue, has been made to the State Railway Commission. The service as planned would provide the south Bay district through co-operation with the Western Motor Coach Company of Redondo Beach and the other intervening sections with direct service to the University of California at Westwood.

CITIZENS MEET COUNCILMEN

MONROVIA, Sept. 9.—Concerning the new county commissioners, the property owners along Duarce Road will confer with the City Council at their session next Monday, it was learned today.

City Engineer Gierlich was notified to inform the property owners of the scheduled meeting.

RESEDA HAS TELEGRAPH

RESEDA, Sept. 9.—A Western Union Telegraph office has been opened in the Reseda Pharmacy in the downtown business district. Heretofore, the nearest telegraph office was in the Southern Pacific Depot at North Los Angeles, two miles north of here.

LEGION SINGERS IN CONTEST

Auxiliary to Compete for National Honors at Louisville Convention

SANTA ANA, Sept. 9.—Members of the American Legion Auxiliary Chorus of Santa Ana are busy making preparations for the club's trip to Louisville, Ky., to attend the national convention of the American Legion which begins the 30th inst.

The twenty Santa Ana singers won first place for their organization at the State convention of the Legion held at San Diego and as a result the State department has set aside $1500 toward the expenses of the club on the Louisville trip. The Santa Ana club will compete for national honors.

The women are collecting $1800 in Santa Ana to match the sum offered by the State and more than half the sum has been raised, according to Mrs. Cecile F. Willett, director.

Reseda Chamber Elects Miller

RESEDA, Sept. 9.—Lee W. Miller, well-known business man and former head of the old Bank of Reseda, which is now a branch of the California Bank, was elected president of the Reseda Chamber of Commerce at a meeting held here in Alton Hall. He succeeds A. E. Parks, who had served for a year. William Courtney was elected secretary-manager. A. H. McVicker is the new treasurer.

Earlier predictions that the agricultural and horticultural chairman would be the most extensive shown at any fair in the country is being borne out by the entries and inquiries being received, according to J. M. Paige. Already there are features from seven counties of the state.

Thirteen have entered the citrus fruit section of the department. The largest exhibit of citrus fruit displayed this year will be the large number of rare fruits. It has been found that here in the Southland there are grown many strange fruits from far off lands. Supt. Paige has made a special effort to get as many of these exhibits as possible and is succeeding very well.

In both the rabbit and pigeon departments special arrangements are being made for an increased number of entries, according to R. B. Whitcomb of the rabbit show and A. H. Fawkes of the pigeon section. Special interest has been added to the rabbit show by the selection of a large list of special cash prizes and ten or twelve silver trophies on various lines. In addition to his work Whitcomb has used the slogan "You cannot win if you leave your rabbits at home."

Further, the department's home-made squad wagon hides in the farthest corner of the abandoned garage behind the station, disgraced, dishonored and unsung.

It was in the squad wagon that Snyder found the skunk before the seat cushions, evidently enjoying a nonstop siesta. Hurriedly accumulating a supply of rocks, the firemen drove the polecat from its resting-place, but not before a stiff assault.

The skunk was assisted by a variable breeze. Today the animal's pelts are being dressed, prepared for mounting and displayed in the station's recreation room.

It was even sniffed and cried and reports of the conflict even stated that Ben Snyder, robust fire eater, was forced given a hand after the fight, but was snuffed early in the battle.
